APPOMATTOX WOMANS CLUB SPONSORS ARTMOBILE VISIT TO APPOMATTOX.

Mrs. C. D. Hill today announced the names of hostesses of the forthcoming Artmobile visit to Appomattox on Nov. 14th thru 18th. Chosen were Members of the Junior and Senior Womans Club.

The Artmobile, a complete air-conditioned exhibition gallery on wheels, was a gift to the people of Virginia from Millerand Rhoads and is operated by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts; its statewide tours are sponsored by the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs.

The hostesses will aid driver-curator Ralph Handwerk in welcoming visitors to the current Artmobile exhibition devoted to original "Paintings of the Italian Renaissance." During the fifteen-minute tour of the Artmobile, visitors hear a recorded commentary as they view these rare paintings which range in time from the age of Dante to the last glorious period of the Venetian Republic in the 18th century. The Artmobile will be located at the Appomattox Elementary School.

Homemakers' Items

It's a good idea to read up on rules before buying silver.

Miss Katherine L. Habel, house furnishings specialist at VPI Agricultural Extension Service, explains that silver hollow ware is simply any table silver that isn't flatware. It covers trays, plates, bowls, compotes, candlesticks, salt and pepper shakers. Flatware includes only utensil-type silver such as knives, forks, spoons, and servers.

The sterling label does not give a guarantee of high quality. A piece can meet the government standards, but be rolled very thin. Thus it will not stand the steady use which imparts beauty to good silver.

Be wary of thin-weighted silver, including compotes, candlesticks and vases. The manufacturer may make them of paper-thin sterling and then pour cement into their bases to keep them from being blown off the table. Luckily these pieces are easy to recognize. When lifted, they feel as if a magnet pulls them at the base. They are heavy, but with a clumsy, unbalanced weight. These pieces are priced low for quick sale. But don't let the sterling mark turn your head. Good silver plate costs about the same and will give more satisfaction.

The heavy silver has the fine raised designs, and is heavy in weight.

When selecting silver hollow ware, think of what the piece can be used for. A covered dish that becomes two dishes, a bowl that will flatter flowers as well as carrots, a tray that can decorate your room between meals, are good choices. Use your silver. Not even the finest silversmith can give silver the mellow glam that comes from frequent use.

There are many tell-tale points of good and bad craftmanship. When silver is ornamented by designs, be sure the inner edges of the pattern are smooth and clean cut. Handles, spouts, and borders may be made separately from the body, but they should be joined together so you can not see where they join. On covered dishes be sure the cover fits securely and is easy to remove.

Before you buy, check the size. Lift the coffee pot. Try passing the vegetable dish. Place the right candle in the candlesticks. Silver is meant to be handled. If it feels awkward or uncomfortable, it may be poorly designed.

Much of the sleek, unbordered modern silver is both beautiful and durable. However, a border often protects plain surface edges from scratches and dents. And remember, to be really beautiful, silver has to be mirror clean and gleaming.

CAPTURED, A NUDE

COLUMBIA, S. C. — "They're running loose and one of them's naked," cried the woman on the telephone to Richland county deputy sheriff. Two deputies went to investigate and found the culprits — ages 3 and 1½. One, playing beside the road, wore training pants. The other wore nothing.

The runnaways were returned to their anxious parents and this footnote added to the sherriff's department offense report: "From now on, all deputies will carry clean diapers."

Wishful Thinking?

A safety sign read: "School — Don't Kill A Child." Beneath this was a childish scrawl: "Wait for a Teacher."

The smart man is not always the one who dodges work.

The value of Bible-reading is so self-evident that we often overlook the importance of mentioning the fact.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blackwell and Mr. Jimmie and Clark Cherlanis spent the week-end in Arlington with Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Chermault and family.

Trifling Worry

The people who tell you never to let little things worry you have never tried sleeping with a mosquito in the room.

The Real Offenders

Something we wonder about: Why a driver who is arrested for striking a parked car is always charged with reckless driving, or worse, while nobody is ever charged with reckless parking.

It All Depends

A cold can be either positive or negative. It depends. Sometimes the eyes have it, other times the nose.

Play safe — drive carefully.
